How to Participate

We welcome any college, university, institution, or organization interested in enrolling graduate students or hiring policy research professionals to reserve a table at the Career and PhD Program Fair. Participants do not need to be APPAM institutional members, but institutional members receive a table discount. Participating employers are not required to be hiring or recruiting for a specific position. Join us for this opportunity to engage with APPAM members face to face and represent your organization to students and professionals across all career stages.

What others have to say:

I participated in APPAM's inaugural Career and PhD Program Fair last fall, and it was a great opportunity to connect with talented individuals for Mathematica's current and future openings. The event was well organized, and the individuals we spoke to were engaged and asked thoughtful questions. Overall, it was a valuable experience, and we look forward to attending again this year.

The APPAM Career Fair is a great way to connect with up-and-coming policy researchers and evaluators. I appreciated the opportunity to build a robust pipeline of candidates for research positions at my organization, and more broadly connect with members of the APPAM community in a structured meet-and-greet setting. Bring a colleague and a lot of business cards, because you will be meeting a lot of talented researchers at the APPAM Career Fair!

What is APPAM?

APPAM is a non-profit organization dedicated to improving public policy and management by fostering excellence in research, analysis, and education.

APPAM hosts an annual research conference, publishes a top academic journal, and presents field achievement awards. We serve our members by convening networks of scholars, students, and institutions to foster engagement, exchange information and share best practices in public policy and related fields.

APPAM is committed to diversity, equity, and inclusion in all facets of our work. We strive to embody these values through a variety of programs, including mentoring, public policy camps, and the annual Equity & Inclusion Fellowship for students and young professionals.
